

Craft

Dig deep and mine your mind for metaphors.
Mix every shade of grey from black to white.
Refine that ragged page until it soars.

Wake up from slumber when the Muse implores.
Bear down to chisel at that stone all night.
Dig deep and mine your mind for metaphors.

Tap on cold walls in search of hidden doors.
Comb winding streets that have no end in sight.
Refine that ragged page until it soars.

Tease dry spells with a rain dance, till it pours.
Snare savage thoughts before they dare take flight.
Dig deep and mine your mind for metaphors.

Command a vantage point and make it yours.
Jot down, draft up, cross out, revise, rewrite.
Refine that ragged page until it soars.

Inspect for flaws the hundredth read ignores.
Use magnifying lens and proper light.
Dig deep and mine your mind for metaphors.
Refine that ragged page until it soars.
